

New Korea Tours specializes solely in travel to DPRK (North Korea).

We are experts in getting you into the country and make sure you have the best itinerary and are aware of the restrictions and behavior required while touring such a unique destination. Our representatives in Beijing will meet you at their office one day prior to your departure to DPRK. They will conduct orientation session, answer all your questions, you will pay the remaining balances and $50.00 DPRK visa fee, collect your DPRK tourist visa and Pyongyang roundtrip airline tickets. DPRK visas are not stamped into your Passports, but given as a separate document, so your Passport will not have any indications of your entry to DPRK.

We make sure your trip is safe, you see the highlights of North Korea and have as much contact with the public as possible. Because of our experience of running tours to DPRK and our special relationships with North Korean partners, there are certain tour sights and activities only available to our tours. Unlike some travel agencies we won't just hand you a ticket and wish you luck. We know more about North Korea than anyone and we do not disappoint. Since 1995 American tourists were allowed only three opportunities to visit DPRK - in 2002, 2005 and 2008. We have confirmation from North Korea officials that there will be another (and, who knows, may be the last) opportunity for Americans to visit DPRK this year.

North Korea (DPRK) is the least visited country in the world... if you can visit then go.... and go now.

New Korea Tours can refer you to a consolidated travel agency which will help you to book air tickets from your home town in USA to Beijing using bulk fares and to book inexpensive but good quality hotel close to our office in Beijing. A complimentary bus will be provided from our Beijing office to the airport in the morning of your departure to DPRK.

NORTH KOREA(DPRK) TODAY

2001 marked the end of what the Koreans have called the 'Arduous March' - the food and economic crisis of the past few years. Though still extremely serious the situation has 'stabilized' due to foreign aid agencies' relief efforts. For the first time foreign hard currency is being actively sought and there is greater contact with the outside world.

North and South Korean relations have improved and this has allowed the reunions of families separated since the division of the country (sadly only a few hundred when there are thousands waiting) and there are new opportunities for the two Koreas to trade. The talks in June 2000 between Kim Jong Il and Kim Dae Jung, then ROK president, were a significant step in terms of trying to break the 55 year old deadlock.

Talks have resumed, stalled and resumed again and the agenda (which includes plans to bridge the division of the country and to continue the family reunions) is still a long way off being put into practice. However part of the rail network has been reconnected which will hopefully allow South Korean goods to pass through North Korea and into Russia/Europe and if it succeeds it will mark a significant step forward. On the international front, of significance is the establishment of diplomatic links, starting with Italy and most recently with Ireland, meaning that DPRK has diplomatic links with most European nations (except France) as well as Australia and Canada among others.

We run group tours (i.e. you join other independent travelers in Beijing and we go as a 'group' into DPRK). Tourism to DPRK is expensive but prices are all inclusive from Beijing and for the service you get from the Koreans it is money well spent. We can offer discounts (10%) to students, groups of 3 or more booking together, children (under 16) and return travelers. You will only require money for gifts and beverages. The tour is in relative luxury although this contrasts with the fact that the country is still having a serious food shortage (though experts are saying that this has now 'stabilized') and infrastructure/potable water supply in the more rural areas, etc. is poor. We have taken advice from experts in Korean politics and international organizations and the majority tell us the greater exposure North Korea has to the outside world, the better. During our previous tours we never had any unwanted incidents with DPRK officials, though vast majority of our tourists usually follow the suggested rules and try not to antagonize our hosts. Please remember that not you, but our guides are responsible for the smoothness of the tour. The itinerary will continue to reveal the catalogue of revolutionary exhibits and miraculous feats all under the watchful eye of the 'Dear Leader' and the Juche Idea. Tours include visits to monuments of 1950's reconstruction and through a fantasia of architecture and sculpture. The highlights are the contact (albeit limited) that we have with the Korean public. Every tourist who has traveled with us has said it has been one of the highlights in their world travels and we can assure you this is true.

We cannot take journalists into North Korea, though we are very willing to assist them in finding out the current situation in the DPRK. We are in no way prepared to compromise the safety of our Korean guides for journalists who attempt to pass themselves off as tourists. We cannot allow the writing of articles or publishing of photographs from our trips without prior permission and we would be obliged to take proceedings against anyone who breaks our trust.

MASS GAMES UPDATE!!!

This year DPRK will host again full scale Mass Games as a part of Arirang Festival. This event will involve over 100,000 performers in a synchronized mass gymnastics and dance extravaganza, the likes of which it is impossible to see anywhere else, this is an art form that the DPRK has developed over the decades and takes place in the May Day stadium (the world's largest). The Mass Games will be taking place over the following two months - from August 1st to October 10th.

Nampo is the West coast port and the main attraction is the West Sea

There is however the opportunity to stay overnight at the Sinchon hot spa which is near Nampo - where you take your own room with a bath fed with warm spring water. This is a great days journey, a this picturesque route with time for strolling, visiting the Songbul Temple. You need all day for this route therefore you will stay one night in Kaesong.

EAST COAST: WONSAN and KUMGANSAN MOUNTAIN

If you have time it is worth making the 4.5 hour journey to the east coast, not because of the sights but the journey in itself, driving across Korea is not what many people have done. You will need to stay at least one night. RECOMMENDED SIGHTS: swimming in the East Sea of Korea, mud bath at the Sijung Hotel. Co-operative farm, fish farm en route for trout lunch (one of the fish tanks was built by your Korean tour guides!)

School Children's Palace - visit only when in season.

MOUNT PAEKDU and MOUNT CHILBO

If you have time and can get a group of ten upwards we can arrange an internal flight to these stunning mountain ranges and the associated revolutionary sights. Paekdu is an extinct volcano on the border with China and DPRK, the birthplace of the Korean people and the 'sublime mountain of the Korean revolution. It comes complete with cable car access if you cannot face the hike and you get right down to the crater lake Chon. The trip includes Revolutionary sights where pre 1945 Kim Il Sung and wife fought the Japanese. Also the Koreans have kept the timber cabin which they say is Kim Jong Il's log cabin birthplace. If time and money allows we can add a flight to Chilbo which is a very relaxed visit - virtually no foreigners visit this beautiful coastal range, ideal for hiking.

INDEPENDENT TOUR INFORMATION

We also offer independent tours of DPRK, these can take place on any date when Mass Games are on (please refer to the transport schedules in and out of DPRK). On the day before travel you will meet up with us or our North Korean representatives at our Beijing Office and you will travel unescorted into DPRK and met by your Korean guides in DPRK. Independent tours are generally more expensive than scheduled group tours but if you can find some friends to travel with you at the same time then the price can be reduced. The price basically depends on how many people are in the group, how long you wish to stay, and what transport methods you wish to use to get in and out of DPRK. We will then send you a quote and some suggestions as to how to improve your itinerary and make the most of your time in the DPRK. Tours can be from as short as 4 days to as long as 5 days you - this will allow you to cover most of the sights... and you can always come back!

The main advantage of independent tourism is that it gives you greater flexibility in terms of where you visit and what you do while in DPRK, however it all needs to be arranged in advance. If you decide on this option then feel free to design your own itinerary, then send us a list of what you want to do and see and we can put something together for you, all we need is a general idea of what sort of things you are interested in and we can send you some suggest itineraries. Please remember that 'independent' still means being accompanied by two guides and a driver is required by law.
